

DREWRY TELLS HOW TO TREAT EPILEPSY

Treatise by Well-Known Specialist on Treatment of This Disease Issued as Pamphlet.

QUICK ARREST IS MADE

Two Men Caught in Manchester on Suspicion of Breaking Into Office.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., June 23.—A most able and interesting treatise on the subject of "Epilepsy and Its Treatment," by Dr. William Francis Drewry, of this city, president of the Medical Society of Virginia, and superintendent of the Central State Hospital, has been published in pamphlet form. Dr. Drewry gives a clear, succinct and comprehensive review and analysis of the manifestations, causes and treatment of the disease in terms not too technical for any reader, and closes with a brief summary of what has been done in various States to provide State institutions for epileptics. Speaking of Virginia, the doctor says: "The Legislature has provided for the establishment of a small colony, which will within a few years doubtless be one of Virginia's greatest institutions." The treatise was read at the recent meeting of the Tri-State Medical Association at Charlotte, N. C., which State it complimented as having taken an advanced position looking to the care of her epileptics in a State institution.

Capture Promptly Made.
About as prompt a capture as could well be made resulted this morning from the report to Chief of Police Ragland at 10 o'clock that the office at No. 123 North Sycamore Street of Mr. James T. Rahilly, a well known young lawyer, had been entered by thieves, who had climbed through the window during the night and had stolen a coat and vest belonging to Mr. Rahilly. Captain Ragland at once got busy, and within forty-five minutes received a message from Manchester replying to his telephone notice and announcing the arrest of the alleged robbers.

The prisoners, who are two white men, giving their names as Adams and Johnson, were brought to Petersburg by Detective Eanes, of this city.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHESTERFIELD C. H., Va., June 23.—The Board of Supervisors in regular session to-day amended its enactments heretofore passed for the preservation of the county roads and punishment of all persons found guilty of abuse of the public roads by incorporating in its ordinances the provisions adopted March 3, 1908, by the Henrico county supervisors relating to the use of wide tires on certain vehicles, gauging the size of such tires from a four-inch tire for four-horse wagons, down to a two-inch tire for one-horse wagons. Where such are used for hauling lumber, bricks, etc., or things other than farm produce, the ordinance is to take effect July 1, or on any day thereafter, when the Henrico ordinance becomes effective. A similar measure has been before the board several times before, but was defeated on time to time and never put into operation.

INSTANT RELIEF OF ITCHING HUMOR

Limbs Below the Knees Were Raw—Feet Too Swollen to Get Shoes On—Sleep Completely Broken by Intense Itching and Burning—Well in Two Days and Says That

CUTICURA IS AMONG HIS HOUSEHOLD GODS

"God bless the man who first compounded Cuticura. Some two months ago I had a humor break out on my limbs below the knees. They came to look like raw beefsteak, all red, and no one knows how they itched and burned. They were so swollen that I had to keep my drawers open to get them on and could not get my shoes on for a week or more. I used five or six different remedies, but nothing helped me. When I applied them the burning was worse and the itching was more intense. I remembered that I had a bit of Cuticura and tried it. From the moment I touched me the itching was gone and I have not felt a bit of it since. The swelling went down and in two days I had my shoes on and was about as usual. I only wish I had used the Cuticura Remedies in the first of my troubles. They would have saved me two or three weeks of intense suffering. During that time I did not sleep an hour at night, but was up applying such remedies as I had. Henceforth the Cuticura Remedies will be among my household gods, rest assured. George B. Farley, 40 South State St., Concord, N. H., May 14, 1907."

MR. TINSLEY IS ASKED TO RESIGN

Principal of Newport News High School Requested to Retire.

CHARGES AGAINST SUPT.

Trouble, Which Is Attracting Much Attention, the Outgrowth of Secret Reports.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 23.—Acting upon the report of a special committee appointed to investigate charges of insubordination, etc., preferred against Professor J. W. Tinsley, principal of the High School and Central Graded School, by Superintendent of Schools W. C. Morton, the board of school trustees late last night requested the resignation of Professor Tinsley and appointed a committee to file charges against Professor Morton before the State Board of Education. The committee was simply directed to "file charges," no intimation being given of the nature of the proposed charges.

Grew Out of Criticism.
As the result of certain adverse criticism of his work in the confidential reports which the superintendent is required by law to make, Professor Tinsley entered the superintendent's office in the High School Building about a week ago and created a scene, denouncing Professor Morton as a "liar" and "cowardly rascal." One of the members of the board, Colonel E. W. Huffman, was in the office at the time. When the charges preferred by Professor Morton were investigated, it developed that the cause alleged by Professor Tinsley for his action was trivial. It was simply a question of whether or not one of the lady teachers had told Professor Morton that Mr. Tinsley approached her in an abrupt manner.

Declare Him Conscientious.
In its report the investigating committee charged the superintendent with lack of executive ability. No other charge was made. The committee declared its belief that Mr. Tinsley was conscientious in his belief that Professor Morton had wronged him, but that he was not justified in the course he pursued.

The case is attracting much attention, especially as it is known that certain political leaders are arrayed against the superintendent. Colonel E. W. Huffman, who was a witness to the difficulty between the superintendent and principal, and who was chairman of the investigating committee, is prominently mentioned as a candidate for the office of superintendent.

BLACKSTONE CASE CLOSED.

Letter From Judge Cardwell Shows There Is No Further Hope.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 23.—The Blackstone case is finally closed. C. Aylett Ashby, of counsel for former Judge Blackstone, who had been in the position of the cause of his client is lost, and that no further effort will be made to reinstate him in the position on the bench of the Eleventh Judicial Circuit, as advised by Judge Clarence W. Robinson.

The following letter, received from Judge Cardwell, of the Supreme Court of Appeals, is responsible for the decision of the attorney.

The application of the Hon. J. W. G. Blackstone for a writ of mandamus was not, as you seem to think, turned down, because the court considered that mandamus was a proper remedy in such cases, but the application received most careful consideration at our hands, and the court having deliberated, reached the conclusion that the petition and exhibits presented no case which entitled the petitioner to the relief sought, we merely followed the well established precedent of denying the writ.

"If the case had been heard on demurrer and answer, counsel would, of course, have been permitted to file briefs, and in the latter instance, to adduce testimony. But when, in the opinion of the court, the petition does not present a proper case for relief, as in the latter instance, to adduce testimony and writs of error are refused without appearance or argument of counsel."

ASK CHIEF TO RESIGN.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] LYNCHBURG, Va., June 23.—Chief of Police J. D. Pendleton to-day, in compliance with a request from the Board of Police Commissioners, tendered his resignation to be effective on July 1st.

A statement to this effect was given out by the members of the board, who were in session in the Council chamber, but no reason for the board's action has been given.

In response to a question it was stated by members of the board that no steps have been taken to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chief Pendleton, though the vacancy will be filled during the coming week, the board at the same time electing six additional policemen, who are to begin work on July 1st.

Chief Pendleton is one of the oldest members of the force in point of service. He was elected to the force in December, 1880, and has since that time been a member of the department, with the exception of a few months when he was absent on leave.

TRIED TO RAISE MONEY.

Now Known That Fawcett Made Every Effort to Save the Bank.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BUCKINGHAM, Va., June 23.—A private letter received here states that after leaving here, Allen K. Fawcett went to Washington and then to some place in Pennsylvania in the effort to raise money to make good his shortage at the Buckingham Bank.

There are two things that would tend to mitigate the young man's crime if he should ever be on trial in a court. One is that there was between $2,000 and $3,000 in currency in that bank that young Fawcett could have taken before he left if he had chosen, and another is that he had not the funds to make good his shortage. He had purchased her made to his wife, telling her that he was in trouble at the bank, and if he was not able to make good the shortage he wanted the property held so that it could be taken by the directors of the bank into the hands of such a receiver as Judge Hall is, and the fact that the stockholders are men worth many times the amount for which the bank is liable, coupled with the fact that a guarantee company is on the missing cashier's bond for $10,000, has raised confidence, and men realize that they have only to wait until the money can pass into the hands of the receiver for them to get what is due them.

Of course there was as usual a run on the bank until the ready cash on hand was exhausted, but notes held by the bank will be falling due at intervals and the other sources of assets will be made use of as promptly as possible. Meanwhile many inconveniences will be the result of the failure of the bank cashier to make good his shortage.

The robbers were City Sergeant P. H. Boisseau, who live next door to each other on Paxton Street. The robbers made good their escape.

Chief Morris was aroused about 2 o'clock by a noise in his chicken-house and went to investigate. The chickens gave signs of having been disturbed, and a setting hen was missing. He could, however, find no evidence of the thieves. He went back into the house. A few minutes later Mrs. Tucker, who resides two doors above Mr. Morris, was aroused by a noise on her back porch, and saw two men. She had some difficulty in arousing her son, Mr. Raymond Tucker. The noise ceased, and the intruders, Mr. Tucker, after being awakened, went out in the backyard and saw the robbers. He fired two shots in the darkness both flew wide of their mark. Chief Morris heard the shots and ran out. He heard two men running through the garden and took up a gun. He fired twice in the direction in which they were fleeing. It is not thought probable that either of the robbers was killed, as nothing was found missing on any of the premises with the exception of the hen belonging to Mr. Morris.

WILL NOT WED

Miss Greenleaf Breaks Off Her Engagement to Rev. Mr. Maxwell.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—Miss Mary Greenleaf, daughter of the late James E. Greenleaf, a Boston artist, and niece of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, the poet, has broken her engagement with the Rev. Mr. Maxwell, rector of Christ Episcopal Church of Sausalito.

Mr. Maxwell, a member of the historic Howe family of Boston, was planning for the wedding, which was to have been officiated over by Bishop Nichols, of the Episcopal Diocese of California, when he received a letter from Miss Greenleaf declaring the engagement off.

"I don't know why the engagement was broken," said Mr. Maxwell in his rectory at Sausalito. "I was simply notified that it no longer existed. From what I know of Miss Greenleaf, however, I believe it was merely an instance of a woman with a supremely sensitive conscience who was not brave enough to follow her convictions."

After Mr. Maxwell had been ordained by Bishop Huntington of
